Join us for APAPASE's Annual Event, which includes an opportunity to meet and mingle with other Greater Philadelphia planners, hear an educational presentation (worth 1 CM credit), and honor the winners of the student scholarship competition.

What is the role of planners and planning in reducing risk to flooding and increasing community resilience? How can flood risk reduction meet other community planning goals, like water quality improvement, neighborhood development, and community cohesion? A panel of water and resilience planners will explore these issues and more. Join us!
