Making Great Communities Happen

APA DE 2018 Regional Conference

October 23 and 24, 2018

Call for Presentations

The Executive Committee of the Delaware Chapter of the American Planning Association is now accepting proposals for presentations at their 2018 Regional Conference to be held in Rehoboth Beach, Delaware. The conference is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday October 23-24, 2018.

Presentation Topics

The theme for this conference is Planning 360: Economy, Environment and Health.

Eligible submissions can cover a broad range of topics related to technological advances and their impacts on infrastructure planning, design, operations, and management related to the theme. Subjects may include those related to Economic Development, Environmental Quality, Public Health, or Planning-related Communications.

Presentation Types

We are accepting proposals for full 90-minute sessions, for individual presentations within a session, and for Mobile Workshops. Research-based sessions highlighting promising emerging and innovative research ideas, best practices, or case studies are encouraged.

Conference Format

The conference will run several parallel tracks with 90-minute sessions. There will be no published conference proceedings, but presentation graphics will be posted on our web site. The audience will consist primarily of professionals from the public and private sectors working in planning (city, county, state) and public health related jobs.

Proposal Submission

The presentation proposal will be submitted electronically using our form server. The deadline for submissions is January 15, 2018. Earlier submissions are encouraged.

Become a Sponsor or Exhibiter

This conference can also provide opportunities to get in front of funders, clients, and/or potential partners. Information on sponsoring or exhibiting is available on the Chapter website listed below.
